

Study Abroad for Anthropology Majors

AU Abroad, in consultation with the Department of Anthropology, offers a selection of programs suited for Anthropology Majors. These programs are recommended based on the academic quality of the host institution's course offerings in your major. In addition to the following programs, students can also explore other options through AU Abroad.

Anthropology Guidelines for Study Abroad

Department of Anthropology
Battelle Tompkins T-21
4400 Massachusetts Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20016
ph - 202.885.1830
f - 202.885.1837

~

AU Abroad
Rockwood Building
4400 Massachusetts Ave., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016
ph —202.885.1320
f —202.885.1370
auabroad@american.edu

- Students may study abroad between their second semester of sophomore year through their senior year. The decision when to study abroad should be made in consultation with the student's academic advisor, to ensure it fits with their academic program.
- To have course equivalencies established, students must submit course descriptions, along with the completed course equivalency form, to their academic advisor.
- If you are interested in studying abroad, please let your academic advisor know as soon as possible so you can meet to discuss study abroad goals and how they fit into your specific academic program and graduation requirements.

Please see reverse for a selection of study abroad options!

STUDY ABROAD FOR ANTHROPOLOGY MAJORS

This is a selection of highlighted study abroad options. For a comprehensive listing of options, complete university descriptions and course listings, please visit www.auabroad.american.edu

Europe

England: School of Oriental and Asian Studies -

Study at the United Kingdom's premier institution for Oriental and African Studies! A wide range of language and area studies is available to you, including Africa, the Middle East and Asia.

Denmark: Copenhagen (DIS) - Denmark's Institute for Study Abroad offers coursework in Anthropology, including Migration and Identity. This program presents a unique opportunity to learn contemporary European migration issues in an anthropological context, and offers you the ability to experience social dynamics first hand!

Australia/New Zealand

Australia: Murdoch University - Study the culture and contemporary issues of Australia's indigenous peoples at Murdoch University, in a unique setting in Western Australia! Study in a relaxed and affordable atmosphere, in a country known for its outgoing, friendly people!

New Zealand: University of Otago - Located in the friendly college town of Dunedin, The University of Otago offers a full range of traditional Anthropology courses, in addition to a well-developed Linguistics program, and an extensive Maori Studies program. The University has played a fundamental role in the development and revitalization of Maori communities throughout the country.

North America

Mexico: UDLA Puebla - Universidad de las Americas, specializing in anthropology and archeology of Mesoamerica, will give you the opportunity to learn anthropology from the pre-Columbian times through to issues of contemporary Mexico. Spanish Language Required.

Africa

Kenya: Sustainable Development in Nairobi- In Nairobi you can study development anthropology while experiencing a growing urban environment first hand. Students are able to take an internship and two courses at a local university, to complete your study abroad experience

Ghana: CIEE - AU offers you to enroll directly at the University of Ghana at Legon. You will have access to the full curriculum, which includes anthropology, archeology, culture, music and theater.

Senegal: CIEE - Study area and language studies, as well as international development, in this unique francophone environment. French Language is required.

Middle East

Egypt: American University in Cairo - AUC has a special program that focus on Egyptology that is instructed in English. This program offers an incomparable experience for the student interested in classical archeology.

Asia

Korea: Ewha Womens University - This unique opportunity at Ewha Womens University will offer you the ability to learn about Korean language and culture, in the vibrant city of Seoul.

India: Contemporary India Program - Study Contemporary India in Pune through a combination of courses and an elective internship, to learn all about life in this emerging democracy.

Hong Kong: Chinese University of Hong Kong- At the intersection of Chinese culture and the world, CUHK gives you the opportunity to study contemporary Chinese culture, along with Putonghua and Cantonese.

AU Abroad